Supervisor Biane Praises Third Annual Fontana Health and Safety Fair as the “Most Successful Ever”

San Bernardino - On June 18, 2005, in Jack Bulik Park, Supervisor Biane hosted his third annual San Bernardino County Health and Safety in the City of Fontana. He was proud to have among his cosponsors the City of Fontana, LaSalle Medical Associates, American Medical Response, the Arrowhead Regional Medical Center, Stater Brothers, Burrtec Waste, Inland Valley Daily Bulletin, Young Homes and several other businesses and organizations.

“The turnout among vendors was excellent. It was great to see businesses, community groups, medical professionals and law enforcement officers all work together to benefit the residents of Fontana and San Bernardino County,” said Supervisor Biane.

At the Health and Safety Fair, the California Highway Patrol gave away 100 car seats and replaced 48 defective car seats; the Inland Empire Health Plan (IEHP) distributed 500 bicycle helmets; hundreds of people received various health, optical and dental screenings; the San Bernardino County Sheriff’s Explorers conducted several hundred child identification fingerprinting; and there were many entertainment shows for the youth. The event was a complete success.

“This was the best health and safety fair in Fontana yet,” said Supervisor Biane.
“I look forward to making next year’s fair even bigger and better.”
